

Doctoral Program in Global History of Empires

2022-2023 SPRING SEMINARS

February 3, 3 pm | Room 3D233

Konstantina Zanou

(Columbia University, New York)

Soldiers of Fortune. Two Brothers and the Adventures of Antiquities from the Ottoman Mediterranean to Gilded Age New York

February 9, 2 pm | Room 3D441

Tatiana Borisova (HSE, St Petersburg) and

Sofia Venturoli (Università di Torino)

How to write a PhD dissertation

February 23, 3-6 pm | Room 3D233

Workshop: Imperial Agents and the Reconfiguration of Empires: Europe and Latin America in the Age of Revolutions (1790s-1830s)

March 2, 4 pm | Room 3D233

Matteo Albanese (Università di Padova)

Neofascism in Europe (1945-1989). A Long Cultural Journey

March 10, 3 pm | Room 3D233

Kenneth Bertrams

(Université Libre de Bruxelles)

Circulationism vs. Diffusionism: Narratives of International Expansion in the History of Science, Technology, and Capitalism (19th-21st. cent.)

March 24, 3 pm | Room 3D233

Friedrich N. Ammermann (EUI), Eoghan

Hussey (EUI), Fartun Mohamed (EUI)

Towards a Fair(er) Global History

April 14, 4 pm | Room 3D233

Vinicius de Carvalho (King's College, London)

Colonial patterns of exploitation in the Amazonian region

April 19, 12 am | Room 3D440

Alessandro Stanziani (EHESS, Paris)

Global labor history: a critical reappraisal

April 27, 11 am | Room 3D440

Silvia Forni (Fowler Museum, UCLA)

Whose story about Africa? Conflicts and dialogues at the Royal Ontario Museum

May 4, 4 pm | Room 3D233

Xosé M. Núñez Seixas

(Universidade de Santiago de Compostela)

Return to Stalingrad? European Memories of the Eastern Front, 1945-2022

May 19, 4 pm | Room 3D233

Paloma Fernández Pérez (Universitat Barcelona)

The resilience of family business networks and alliances in modern history: an interdisciplinary approach

May 25-26, 3-6 pm and 9-12 am | Room 3D233

Workshop: The Monroe Doctrine turns 200: two centuries of interimperial and transimperial connections

June 8, Fondazione Luigi Einaudi

Maurizio Isabella

(Queen Mary, University of London)

Southern Europe in the Age of Revolution